

SAFARI RANGERS

One of our experienced Rangers will join you on your coach during your trip around the reserves to ensure that your drive around is as informative and engaging as possible.

West Midland Safari Park is part of the British and Irish Association of Zoos and Aquariums (BIAZA), and we work together to continually improve our excellent education, animal welfare, research and conservation.

We are home to 142 different species, around 30 of which are either endangered, critically endangered or extinct in the wild. We participate in 32 managed breeding programmes to create healthy and representative captive populations as a back-up to wild populations, animals for future release programmes and ambassadors for the species.

This includes species such as the African wild dog, African elephant, Rothschild giraffe, Sumatran tiger, dhole and white rhino. We have our own charity, the 'Namibian Wildlife Conservation Trust', which raises funds to enable valuable research to be undertaken at the Ongava Research Centre in Namibia.

EYFS, KS1 AND KS2

Buckle up and hold on tight, we're going on safari! Discover how fast a cheetah can run, the unique way in which wild dogs hunt and how long a giraffe's tongue is as your coach takes you around our four-mile drive-through. One of our knowledgeable guides will join you on your coach to personalise your experience by sharing amazing stories and pointing out individual animals for the children to spot.

KS3, KS4, FE AND HE

Our four-mile safari drive-through is home to over 25 different species of animal, many of which are endangered in the wild. With a personal guide onboard your coach, discover the threats these animals are facing and the variety of ways in which WMSP are working with other collections around the world to protect their future.
